Rules of the Competition

Ultra-Short Films Category

Article 1: Theme

The admitted films are professional or amateur films dedicated to discovery, observation, protection and conservation of wild nature. All themes related to wildlife can be exploited.

The theme can be treated in a humorous or poetic way, as a long shot, as a documentary, a commercial, an animated cartoon, a fiction, etc. Originality is to be privileged.

Article 2: Registration

The participation in the competition is free of cost and is taken into account only if all sections of the form are correctly filled in.

Every filmmaker is allowed to submit several films to the selection.

The required maximum length of the film is 1 minute.

Each film has to be registered separately.

The registration is done online via one of the hereafter mentioned possibilities:

- On the online submission service “FilmFreeway” (filmfreeway.com)
- On the online submission service “Docfilmdepot” (www.docfilmdepot.com)
- By filling in the online form on the website www.festivalnaturenamur.be and by sending a selection copy of the film to the secretariat of the Festival, as a data file in the formats .mp4 or .mov via one of the following supports:
 - The WeTransfer+ account of the Festival (preferably)
 - Sending an external hard disk or a USB stick to the Festival postal address
 - Internet uploading (Vimeo, YouTube, FTP, Dropbox...)

USB sticks and external hard disks will be sent back within 3 months after the event if the filmmaker sends us a written request.

The organisers of the FINN suppose that the person who registers a film for the competition –i.e. by signing the registration form – benefits from the production’s and/or the direction’s agreement. As a consequence the FINN will pay the possible award to that same person. The organisers cannot be held responsible for any possible litigation related to that registration.

The Festival will keep in its archives a copy of the selected films to use one or several extracts with a non-commercial goal only, for the promotion of the Festival.

The entire copy of the film can also be used within the scope of the Festival decentralisations. This use will, in any case, be subjected to a request addressed to the filmmaker and/or the production company. The Festival decentralisations are shows organised in municipalities in Belgium to allow the public who could not attend the Festival shows to discover the films.

Article 7: Copyright, author's rights and distribution

The filmmaker remains the owner of the intellectual property of the film but he/she authorises the use of the film and the images it contains by the Festival International Nature Namur for the promotion of the Festival and of wildlife in Belgium and abroad.

For music and sounds composed by third parties present in the film, the entrants will see to it to respect the international copyright laws, to ensure that they have the rights of use and to mention these composers' names in the credits.

For the screenings of the amateur films during the Festival and at the events specified above, the organisers will pay the broadcasting rights due to the Sabam (Belgian Society of Authors).

The filmmaker commits him/herself not to take legal action against the non-profit organisation of the Festival for the use by third parties of the film or the images it contains. In this context, the Festival commits itself never to grant the right to use these out of the limits of the present conditions.

Article 8: Category & Awards

The Jury of the Festival's competition is composed of national and international representatives of the audio-visual, science and nature world.

The jury will issue the award:

 The « Ultra-Short Award »

In addition to the awards issued by the Jury, the “Audience Award” will be granted to the film which will receive the most votes from the audience.

Article 9: Invitations

For the selected films, the filmmaker (and a person of his/her choice) will be invited to the Festival show to present their film and, as the case may be, receive their award.

Article 10: Transport and Insurances

The copies used to be shown will be returned by post, upon written request. The postal sending costs for the pre-selection or for the competition are supported by the sender. The return costs are supported by the FINN.

The FINN will be held responsible during the period between the reception and the return of the copy.
